Why is it, a careless seven year old kid can drop a half burned match in an alley and burn up all the barns in a block, while an able bodied man has to use up a whole box of matches to get a wood fire started in a heater that has draft enough to draw all the furniture up the stove pipe?

One of the most exciting and interesting games of the season will take place in this city on Saturday, June 23. The opponents of the local team will be the famous and original Boston Bloomer Girls. This team was first organized in 1893 by Mr. W. P. Needham, the manager, and judging from the flattering press notices being showered upon them, our boys will have to play ball in order to secure victory. The ladies have their own palace car and have traveled extensively, having played in all the large cities of U. S. and Canada. The club has been strengthened from year to year and their line up this season is the equal of anything in the amateur or semi-professional base ball line. Don't fail to see them. Admission 25 cents. The investment by conversative citizens in business and residence property is a very good indication of the faith of the citizenship in the city. Their advance has been gradual but it has been in keeping with the general prosperity that has been prevalent in this city. People who formerly resided in our city on their return visits are quick to see the change in conditions. There is an atmosphere of good times prevalent.

It does not pay to advertise say some merchants who have done but little of it and that without keeping it up. The incident of the boy and the pump illustrates the matter very well. The boy was sent after a pail of water. He poured in the priming and poured out as much as he poured in. Then he stopped to rest and the priming run down. After sometime of alternate pumping and resting he concluded it did not pay to pump and quit in disgust. The merchant who does not believe in advertising does it like the boy did the pumping. He advertised a few weeks, then stopped awhile and allowed the people to forget him and his business before he advertised again and then concluded that advertising didn't pay.

JUNE STOCK SALE AND HORSE SHOW.

The stock sale and horse show Monday was well attended. The sale brought many to town to do their shopping who had been too busy with their crops to come before. The St. Louis store was rushed to the limit, having several new clerks, then people had to wait sometime before being waited on. The other stores were also as busy as could be. At 9:30 a. m., the sale began and quite a lot of stock was disposed of in a short time. In the afternoon the clouds began to gather and for about an hour we had one of the hardest rains of the season. After the rain the sale began again and about 4:30 p. m. the horse show started and lasted until about 2:30 when the rain again interfered, making it impossible to have the potato race. The Montgomery band livened things up some in the afternoon by playing several pieces. One of the most interesting features of the day was the pony race, Mr. Combs winning first prize. The Democrats never liked Mark Hanna, but they learned to have a great deal of respect for his political management and his forecast of results. In Missouri the same feeling for Chairman Neideringhaus is becoming general, not that the Democrats love him, but that they know he means what he says. Hence, when the state chairman puts it out that the Republicans are going to win the other fellows feel sure that they at least have a fight on hand that will be worthy of the name.—Hannibal Courier.

No indictments Found in Circus Riot Case.

Columbia, Mo., June 16.—The Boone County Grand Jury, which adjourned its session here to-day, failed, contrary to expectations, to return any indictments against any circus employes or Missouri University students for participation in the so-called riot, when Cole Bros., circus was here.

The jury is known to have made a thorough investigation of the matter in accordance with the instructions of Judge A. P. Waller, of the Circuit Court. No recommendations of any sort, respecting the disturbance, were made to the university authorities.

The failure of the jury to take action on the matter is considered a vindication of the position of the Discipline Committee of the university, which has not as yet reported any expulsions as a result of the disturbance.

The jury also returned no indictment against Henry Jonas, the 17-year-old boy who killed his uncle, Mitchell Shadrick, with a small stone in a brawl near Columbia on last Christmas Day. Jonas, who has been in jail since the killing, was to-day released.

Evidence against him was insufficient, in view of the fact that Shadrick, who was the largest man in Boone county, was chasing the boy with a stick of cordwood, when the latter turned and threw the missile. Shadrick was struck behind the ear, and died almost instantly.

It is not easy to learn to keep household account book all at once. A young husband gave his wife a neat little account book, prettily bound and designed to be inviting in appearance. He also gave her fifty dollars and said: "I want you to put down what I give you on this side, and on the other write down the way it goes, and in two weeks I will give you another supply." Two weeks later he asked for the book. "Oh, I have kept that account," said the young matron; "here it is." And on one page was inscribed: "Received from Fred fifty dollars," and on the opposite was this summary, "Spent it all."

Some of our exchanges have made mention of the fact that the farmers living along the lines of rural routes have contributed a bushel or two of corn to the carrier. This is a suggestion that might well be acted upon by the patrons of every rural route. The carriers have a government job, but it is by no means a "private snap." It takes a good deal of management to make both ends meet when they are obliged to keep to horses, live in town and buy all the necessary provisions at the market price. The carriers of our county have gone over their routes during the muddy weather at a great inconvenience, and are always faithful in the performance of their duties. A bushel of corn or so given to the carrier would hardly be missed by the farmer, but it would be a great saving in the expense of horse feed and the generous act would certainly be appreciated by the faithful mail man.
